

Chateau d'Aubenas les Alpes , Provence

FOR A TOTAL DISCONNECTION

This home was built on the site of 12th century Roman foundations. Although the castle, as it appears now, dates from the 16th century.

The site is spectacular and very quiet. Surrounded by lush greenery, the property is especially for nature and architecture lovers, wanting to enjoy a holiday in total relaxation.

This is the smallest french village that stands on the property. Large gates opens to a small and extremely beautiful castle. The garden and pool offer a spectacular panoramic view. Inside, modern comfort mixes with antiques. The rooms are decorated in a minimalist chic, elegant and functional style. The very large bathrooms are consistent with the style of the rest of the castle. It is a place to live with family or friends, for a total disconnection from the rest of the world, while the village of Banon is just minutes away.
